Minimum Height: 42"

Ride Time: 5 minutes (maximum duration time)

Heed the cry of "Geronimo!" It doesn't get any higher or faster than the skydiving, hang gliding fun of the Skycoaster. Anywhere from one to three riders are hoisted 180 feet to dangle high above the ground. Once the brave one pulls the rip cord...well, watch out! Rushing through the air at speeds of 60-80 mph, flyers soar in a wide arc that is part hang gliding, part sky diving and all a complete rush! Flyers must be in good physical and mental condition-specifically not impaired by drugs or alcohol. Flyers must not have any physical problems such as a heart condition or back or neck injuries that could be aggravated by a Skycoaster flight. Flyers must have the ability to grasp and hold onto the landing pole loop with both hands to slow down their flight in order to fly in a normal manner. Small children flying with adults are the exception to this rule. Should any flyer be unable to grasp and hold onto the landing loop with both hands, the flyer(s) shall be given the option of flying and coasting to a stop without the use of any landing pole. By reason of the restraint system inherent in the flight suits, it is necessary that flyers possess two arms sufficient to be contained and restrained by the shoulder pads, and at least one leg sufficient to be contained and restrained by a leg strap.
